PARDON RECOMMENDED.

Report of the Surgeons Appointed to Examine Him.

The condition of William R. Smith, now confined in the penitentiary, is said to be very deplorable. Recently, at the request of Governor Lee, a Board of Surgeons was carefully examined by a Board of Surgeons. Their reports were made to the Governor yesterday.

WHAT DR. WATSON SAYS.

RICHMOND, Va., March 31, 1887. Governor Fitzhugh.

Dear Sir: After many careful examinations of Mr. William R. Smith, now confined in the penitentiary, I am satisfied that he is suffering from phthisis pulmonalis, a consumption of the lungs, and longer confinement can but aggravate his now hopeless condition and hasten his death.

I recommend his release as being the only means likely to prolong his life. Respectfully,

General James C. Hill for Railroad Commissioner.

The Democratic caucus met last night at 7:30 o'clock, and were in session some three hours. A number of ballots were taken for Railroad Commissioner. The last resulted: For James C. Hill, 36; H. G. Moffett, 34; scattering, 1.

MOZART ACADEMY.

Engagement of the Bijou Opera Company. Manager Castin has the pleasure of announcing an engagement with the New York Bijou Opera Company.

It will open Tuesday night, April 5th. The company has been reorganized with Beatie Gray as prima donna.

It has new special scenery, elegant costumes, fine properties and lively music, with a large and well-trained chorus. Mr. George B. Snyder, stage manager; Mr. Max Figan, stage manager; and Mr. E. D. Taylor, property man.

The whole under the direction of Messrs. Williams and Gardner.

The repertoire embraces "Mikado," "Olivette," "Billee Taylor," "Chimes of Normandy," "The Mascotte," and "Patience."

The company is a strong one, and a week of excellent opera is expected.

The Day We Celebrate.

Preparations are being made, although in a very quiet way, for the appropriate celebration of the Queen's Jubilee. This celebration will take place on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the coronation of Queen Victoria.

In Richmond the arrangements are in charge of a committee of Anglo-Americans, and it is expected that it will be worthy of so great an occasion. There is no desire to make the affair entirely "English you know," and the co-operation of all is invited who honor the virtues of the Queen mother and wish her continued happiness, without regard to other questions.

At the next meeting of Sir Walter Raleigh Lodge, Sons of St. George, some definite plans will be formulated.

The Laying of the Corner Stone of the City Hall.

The following should have been noticed yesterday.

The Committee on Grounds and Buildings request your presence at the laying of the corner stone of the new City Hall of Richmond, Va., on Tuesday, April 5, 1887, at 4:30 p.m.

Order of exercises: Prayer, Rev. M. D. Hoge, Masonic ceremonies, Grand Lodge of Virginia. Oration, Judge Beverly R. Wellford, Jr. Respectfully,

THOS. N. KENDLER, Chairman; LEWIS D. CHENNAW, Jr., W. C. AMOS, EVAN SNEAD, ANDREW PIZZINI, Jr., W. C. CUMMINS, City Engineer.

The Minstrels at the Theatre.

Despite the bad weather McNish, Slaviv and Johnson's Minstrels had a crowded house last night. The performance was highly enjoyed and the applause was enthusiastic. Had it been a good night, standing room could not have been obtained. The troupe is all that is claimed for it, and the performance was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

Mrs. Powell has received a letter from her New York manager in which he states that he had declined to book "Passion Slave," as he did not consider it up to the standard of attractions usually offered at the Theatre.

Mrs. Langtry will be the next attraction, April 11th and 12th.

Now and Then.

A bill was seen yesterday for 900 feet of gas for the quarter ending September 1st, 1884. The price was $13.50. A bill for the same quantity for the month of March 1887, was $12.50. The price of gas in September 1884 was $15 per thousand feet, now it is $1.50 and still there are many "kickers." But some will say that that was in Confederate "shucks" and that was plentiful, not remembering that to many poor fellows $15 in Confederate money was a bonanza. It was only the bomb proofs and non-combatant that had plenty of it.

Supreme Court of Appeals.

City of Richmond against the County of Henrico. Argued by C. V. Meredith, Esq., for appellant, and A. R. Courtney and A. W. Patterson, Esq., for appellee, and submitted.

Richard H. Tebb, Esq., was allowed to practice as counsel in this court.

Goes to Mobile.

Mr. Joseph E. Capps, for the past six years with the Richmond and Alleghany railroad, leaves to-night for Mobile, Ala. He goes to take charge of the car-shop under Mr. George D. Harris, also late of the Alleghany road. The best wishes of many friends will follow Mr. Capps in his new field of labor.

The Firemen Will Parade.

At a meeting of the City Council Committee on Fire Department last night it was determined to order the Fire Department on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the City Hall next Tuesday.

MUSIC THAT CHARMS.

The Second Musicals of the Conservatory of Music.

The fearful first of April weather of last night did not prevent a very full attendance at Sanger Hall. There was given the second musical of the Richmond Conservatory of Music. The length of the programme prevents special notice, but all acquitted themselves handsomely. Mrs. Clements deserves much credit for the degree of proficiency exhibited by all of the pupils in both vocal and instrumental music.

The most difficult selections were skillfully rendered, and the choruses were particularly well trained and effective.

Among those having names, Misses Belle Taylor, Niva Rice, Nannie Blackburn, Mollie Little, Lydia Bodeker, Lulu Bethel, Julia Teller, Irene Bodeker, Allie Allen, Mabel Crowe, Bessie Dickinson, Campbell, Shelton, Winsley, Cutler, Hatcher, Frauner, Powell and Harlow, Mr. D. L. Johnston, Master Willie McGehee, Ralph Clements and Walter Hoffman, Mr. Watkins and Mrs. Clements.

Falling snowflakes made it bleak and drear without, but the scene inside the hall was one of loveliness, and the evening was one that will live in memory as a bright and happy occasion.

General James C. Hill for Railroad Commissioner.

The Democratic caucus met last night at 7:30 o'clock, and were in session some three hours.

A number of ballots were taken for Railroad Commissioner. The last resulted: For James C. Hill, 36; H. G. Moffett, 34; scattering, 1.

The matter of a recess was discussed, but without action, the caucus adjourned to meet next Tuesday night. The impression prevails that a recess will be taken next Wednesday or Thursday.

No other business was transacted. But little over two-thirds of the members were present, quite a number being no doubt better entertained at the other "show" at the Theatre.

SKETCH OF THE NOMINEE.

General James C. Hill, of Albemarle, the successful candidate for Railroad Commissioner, is at this time sergeant-at-arms of the House of Delegates, and has been for several sessions. He was turned out during "the black and blue" regime, but promptly reinstated when Virginia came to her own again. He is editor of the Scottsville Courier and is an ex-member of the Legislature. He was a gallant soldier and has rendered yeoman service to the Democratic party with vigor, pen, time, talents and money. The selection is one eminently fit to be made.

For the retiring official the Trusts city staff has only good words. In his intercourse with him he has been kind and courteous, and all wish for him in whatever field he may embark all prosperity and success.

As the term will begin during the recess it will no doubt be incumbent on the House on assembling to select a successor. Or the present efficient assistants, A. B. Cottrell and Arthur Sullivan, may be able very successfully to fill the bill for the short session, as either will make a first-class Sergeant-at-Arms if an election is held.

BEHAVIORS.

Range of thermometer at Spence, Tyce & Co.'s shoe house, Broad street, April 1st, 1887, 9 a.m., 34°; 12 m., 36°; 3 p.m., 36°; 6 p.m., 34°.

Mrs. James Potter Brown has now been advertised enough, and it is hoped that future notices of her will come through the business office.

The April-fool blot was in his glory yesterday, and practiced his usual pranks on the unwary reporters and other innocent and unsuspecting youths.

This is the anniversary of the battle of Snow Hill, Tenn., fought in 1862. It should be duly celebrated.

To-morrow will be Palm Sunday. Three hundred and sixty-nine deeds were recorded in the clerk's office of the Chancery Court in March. This is the largest number for any month for the past four years.

Thirty-seven marriage licenses were issued by the Clerk of the Hustings Court during the month of March. Nineteen to white and eighteen to colored.

To-morrow is the twenty-second anniversary of the evacuation of Richmond. Jefferson street from Main to Beverly and Beverly to Belvidere, down Belvidere to Albemarle, and thence to Pine street church, will be yesterday the worst thoroughfare in the city.

Mr. O. R. Selke, of the Petersburg Ledger Appeal, was in the city yesterday.

The Arie is now running on her summer schedule, leaving Richmond at 7 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

The changes in the Atlantic Coast Line noted in yesterday's Times went into effect yesterday morning without formality or ceremony.

The New Pavilion Theatre.

The new Theatre will open next Monday with Alfred the Great. A real carnival of fun is expected.

Lee Camp had another large meeting last night. This gallant body of ex-Confederates will participate in the ceremonies attending the laying of the cornerstone and will turn out in strong force.

Buying a Railroad.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 1.—It is reported in this city, and there are good grounds for the statement, that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe has purchased three-fourths of the stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway at 110. This gives the Atchison road the entrance to Chicago with unequalled terminal facilities. A preliminary survey made by the Atchison engineers will doubtless result in the location of a line across Illinois, tapping the Eastern Illinois at the most convenient point.

Held for Assault.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Dr. James Hodges was arraigned here yesterday, charged with exploding a bomb in the Grand Opera House on the night of February 9th during the performance of Mme. Patti. Hodges, when placed on the stand, gave his testimony freely, and said that he had gone to the Opera House with the intention of taking his own life while Patti was singing, so that he "could be her rage in the spirit land." He was found guilty of assault with intent to commit murder.

SORROWS OF A POOR OLD MAN.

A Father Robbed by His Sons of the Remnant of His Fortune.

Ralph H. Ogle, a youth seventeen years of age, was sentenced to imprisonment for five years in State prison, by Recorder Smyth, in the Court of General Sessions New York Thursday, under circumstances of a very distressing character.

He was charged with uttering eight forged checks on the West Side Bank in this city, amounting altogether to $1,014.

The defendant is the son of Mr. Ralph Ogle, who resides at No. 985 Eighth avenue, and is a veterinary surgeon. The father is 65 years of age, and the money was obtained on checks to which his name had been forged. The discovery of the forgery was not made until Mr. Ogle went to the bank to draw some money, and found that the remnant of the savings of his life was gone.

The cashier of the bank, Mr. George W. P. Davis, instituted an investigation, and it was found that the defendant had uttered the bills, and Assistant District Attorney Purdy said that there was every reason to believe that another son had committed the forgery.

In addition to the trouble that the father has been called upon to endure, he had the painful memory that his son George was serving a life sentence in Sing Sing prison for the murder of James A. Brown, in Eighth avenue, near the Grand Opera House, on December 4, 1882.

George was a member and treasurer of the well-known Linwood Association. It was over a dispute as to the accounts of this organization that Brown was killed. The case was taken to the Court of Appeals, who affirmed the conviction, and George was sentenced on February 4th, 1886.

The father had spent all his small fortune in the defense of his son and in taking the case up for appeal, with the result that he was left with a small balance, but his other son was convicted of unlawfully obtaining. He is now in destitute circumstances.

TERMS OF THE B. AND O. SALE.

Satisfactory End of Negotiations.—The "Deal" Now Said to be a Fixed Fact.

The following is taken from yesterday's Baltimore Sun:

The statements made concerning the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad deal were yesterday of a more positive character than at any time since the report of the negotiations to that end became public.

It was said that the settlement of the terms for the sale of a controlling interest in the stock of the company to a syndicate has now a fixed fact, and that the deal is assured. The negotiations have been carried on through the Iron-Stayer party, who took an option from Mr. Garrett, and have paid a considerable sum of money. It is announced with equal positiveness that their investigation of the affairs of the railroad company has been satisfactory to them, and that they have succeeded in organizing the syndicate of purchasers. Who the capitalists or what the interests are that have backed up Messrs. Ives and Stayer can as yet only be surmised, except that the Cincinnati, Hamilton, and Dayton railroad is no doubt in the deal for a share. Mr. Robert Garrett is also said to be a prominent factor in the syndicate. Now that the principal fact is believed to be established that a deal has now been made, the interest will be directed to the authorized statement of the details which has been promised by President Garrett. It is the expressed opinion of those friends of the Baltimore and Ohio who have been nearest to the inside in these secret negotiations that the change in the managing ownership of the company cannot be otherwise than advantageous to that property. Its control has always been in a few hands in this city, and it had but few interested friends among capitalists elsewhere. Therefore its movements toward development or spreading out in any new direction have been constantly antagonized, impeded or thwarted. With the new order of things outside capital will be brought into the property that will seek to help and not retard its progress. Important announcements are said to be promised very soon.

President Garrett returned home from New York at 8 o'clock last evening and drove at once to his residence, on Mt. Vernon Place. Mr. W. C. Boone, of the New York party, who came here with Messrs. Ives and Stayer at the first conference had with Mr. Garrett a couple of weeks ago, was registered at the Hotel Remont yesterday.

Mr. Boone entertained a New reporter at the hotel last evening with an agreeable chat, in which he proved himself an adept at parrying questions. He spent some time with General John Gill, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, where the B. & O. stock for which option have been given is to be deposited when the call is made. Mr. Boone was reminded that his visit to General Gill might be construed to have some significance, but he replied that he and that gentleman were army companions, and their intercourse was entirely social. He said there was no need, so far as he knows, for Messrs. Ives and Stayer to again come to Baltimore. "Then all the arrangements have been made in New York?" inquired the reporter. Mr. Boone only said, "Oh" and smiled.

Captain W. W. Peabody, formerly president and general manager of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway Company, was registered at the Hotel Remont last evening. The old report is still repeated that he is to go into the Baltimore and Ohio service.

The Sun's correspondent in New York telegraphed the following last night: "Robert Garrett left the city for Baltimore this afternoon without having made any public statement relative to the Baltimore and Ohio deal. Ives and Stayer remain equally uncommunicative, and there is an entire absence of gossip concerning the great deal. The rumors of impending changes in the organization of the Baltimore and Ohio are revived, and it is asserted tonight that General Manager Clements of the Erie Express will shortly resign to become superintendent of the Main Stem of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad."

Henry Villard who was in Philadelphia yesterday, denied that he had anything to do with the Baltimore and Ohio negotiations. He did not appear to know anything about who was engaged in the alleged purchase.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Table with columns: Highest, Lowest, Closing. Rows for Wheat, Corn, Coffee, etc.

REVIEW.

The wheat market has ruled very wild and excited to-day and trading was very heavy. May opened steady at 82 1/2 on better cables. Chicago started buying heavily, and without a price realized became very free, and it was thought prices were trying to sell out, and market dropped to 82. More buying orders sharply to 82 1/2 closing at 82 1/2. It looks like the buying of the Chicago is the only possible support to market. The far off options showed weakness throughout the session,
